

DPS Raipur Welcomes UK Teachers

Niall Moorjani and David Donald shall be working as Teaching Assistants at the school for the next five months. They will be working as part of the British Council's Generation UK India initiative, which is designed to promote cross cultural communication and interaction between two wonderful countries. They have already been captivated inspired by the teachers and children of DPS Raipur, and in the short time they are here it is a small dream that they may inspire them too.

Niall is a graduate of History and Classics from the University of Edinburgh, and enjoys many sports including Tennis, Football, Rugby and many more. He is also a professional performer and will look forward to helping the children with these co-curricular activities.

David is a recent graduate also, of Chemistry from the University of Heriot-Watt. He is an enthusiastic guitar player and is trained in the dramatic arts, and is looking forward to bringing out the best of these qualities in co-curricular activities with the pupils.
